VOLUME 6. MARYVILLE, MISSOURI. TUESDAY, OCT. 5, 1915. NO. 106.

NOW FOR BIG WEEK

CORN SHOW, FARMERS' INSTITUTE AND TEACHERS MEETING.

COMES LAST OF OCTOBER

Fashion Show Probably Will Be Held Then Also.—Miss Anthony Tells of Work.

The seventh annual Nodaway County Agricultural and Domestic Science association, better known as the Corn Show, will be held in Maryville October 28, 29 and 30. In connection with it, the Farmers' Institute at the State Normal School, the County Teachers' Meeting and probably the Fashion Show by the merchants will be held.

Another attraction of the week will be the oratory and declamation contests at which each school in the county or in Gentry county may enter a boy and a girl They will be held Thursday night, October 28, in the Normal auditorium. Prof. H. P. Swinehart, professor of English in the Normal, will have charge of the contests.

It has not been definiteiy decided by the teachers of the Maryville high school whether they will attend the State Teachers Association in Kansas City, November 11-13 or attend the meetings of the county here the last week in October.

So that last week in October will be a great week. The principal purpose of the association is "to stimulate and direct educational progress along practical lines." Miss Hettie M. Anthony, teacher of domestic science at the State Normal school, said yesterday concerning the work of the association:

"The number of girls and boys taking part in the Domestic Science and Agriculture contests has steadily increased year by year until the number is so large that it is attracting the attention of all the educational institutions of the state.

"Are parents realizing what a vital part of a youth's education these contests may be made? Boys and girls study and observe more closely when in a contest and it stimulates them to want to do things worth while and well. The new key note of education is "Service" not to cram the brain with knowledge for school room purposes, but for use in life. The service rendered by these contests result in better and more healthy homes and better crops.

"The contests also arouse on interest, so the girls will want to join the Home Economics clubs and classes for more careful study as will the boys in the study of Scientific Agriculture.

"Parents are and should encourage these young people in this work and the business men are showing great wisdom in getting behind the movement in the way of prizes and financial support.

The contest is held the last week in October, a number of good speakers as well as a large exhibit will be open to the public. It is hoped that the community will show its interest by a large and loyal attendance."

AIR SHIVERED DOWN TO 32

Light Frosts Everywhere But No Damage of Consequence Reported. Highest Was 60.

Kansas City, Oct. 5.—The temperature dropped to 40 here last night with light frosts. More frost is predicted for tonight with warmer weather Wednesday.

It was 34 at Jefferson City with a heavy frost; 35 at Concordia; 38 at Wichita with a light frost. Light frosts are reported all through western Kansas.

The minimum temperature here was 32 and there was considerable frost but no damage was reported. The cold of yesterday and the clear sky was a warning and everything which could be protected was cared for. The highest the mercury had climbed in twenty-four hours at noon today was 60.

MAY HAVE FOOTBALL

SCHOOL BOARD DOES NOT OPPOSE IT, REPLY TO PETTITION.

TEACHERS WILL DECIDE

Matter Left in Hands of Westbrook and McGrew.—Holidays for Association Meetings.

Indications are that football will be re-instated in the Maryville high school as a major sport after this year. It will probably be played some this year as an inter-class and intra-school sport but no outside games will be scheduled

A large petition of high school students, townspeople and teachers was presented to the school board last night at its regular monthly meeting. It has been more than ten years since the high school has had a football team. The board went on record as not opposed to football but left the matter in the hands of Superintendent W. M. Westbrook and Principal George P. McGrew.

They will announce their decision after conferring with Paul Becker, director of athletics in the high school. If football is to be played, a number of teams will be chosen as the various baseball teams were and they will play a school series.

This work would be done as a preliminary to turning out a team next year which would be a credit to Maryville and which could schedule games with high schools of its rank and size. It is believed that the opposition to football which was so prevalent under the old style of play has disappeared since the new open, passing kind of game has been adopted.

Concerning Teachers Meetings.

The board voted to give Thursday and Friday, November 11 and 12, as holidays to the teachers if all desired to attend the meeting of the State Teachers' association in Kansas City.

Superintendent Westbrook was asked to confer with the teachers and if all of them did not want to go to Kansas City, then a holiday would be declared for the meetings of the teachers of the county here during the last week in October.

League Business Meeting.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Epworth League of the Buchanan Street Methodist church was held last night. The principal action taken was the decision to hold a "Backward Social" Friday evening, October 15. Every person coming will be fined for each article of clothing which is not on backwards. The organization of a mission study class was discussed.

ABOUT DR. EVANS

ADDITIONAL FACTS CONCERNING ONE OF LYCEUM MEN.

"LORDS OF THE LAND"

Great Congregational Minister to Talk Plainly About Aristocracy of Wealth and Democracy.

The Maryville Lyceum association has received a folder giving more complete details concerning the men who were secured to take the two remaining places on the course. Interest was aroused in Dr. Arthur Walwyn Evans when it was announced that he was a relative of David Lloyd-George.

But Dr. Evans does not go on the reputation of his relatives. Although only 30 years old, he is pastor of one of the large Congregational churches of Ohio, succeeding in that pulpit Dr. Edward A. Steiner, another lyceum star. He has held that pastorate five years.

Educated in a Scotch university, he was sent by the Church of Scotland to the Shetland Islands as an evangelist and for several years preached all over Great Britain. At Ballater, he addressed the Guard of Honor of King George VII and many notable men. During the remarkable Welsh revival, he spoke every night to audiences of five thousand in Aberdeen.

Dr. Evans is now a contributing editor to the new International Bible Encyclopaedia of which Dr. James Orr of Glasgow is editor. The damands for him as a public speaker on lyceum and chautauqua platforms have been so great that he has been induced to give up his pastorate in the near future and devote all his time to literary and lyceum work.

This is his third season on the American platform during which time he has appeared in courses with such men as Bryan, Hillis and Gunsaulus. He is characterized as a Welsh wit and humorist. His three best-known lectures are "The Mill and Millions," "The Language of Liberty," and "The Lords of the Land."

"The Lords of the Land" is the lecture which Dr. Evans gives most frequently and it is probable that it will be given in Maryville. It deals with the struggle between the aristocracy of wealth and democracy. While he deals primarily with industrial and economic conditions in this country, his relationship to David Lloyd-George and his early life in all parts of Great Britain makes it possible for him to speak with authority on the European side of the question.

Educational films will be featured. The animated weekly will be shown each week. Saturday night Homer Croy will appear in "The Buried City," showing the excavation of a mummy.

Petrograd, Oct. 5.—Russia has broken off diplomatic relations with Bulgaria and Minister Savinsky at Sofia has been recalled.

It is believed that hostilities will follow within the next twenty-four hours. The foreign office made a long statement today giving reasons for the recall of iheir ambassador.

BIG DRIVE ON DARDANELLES

Offensive in Asia Minor Simultaneous With New Activity on Both Fronts.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Athens, Oct. 5.—Simultaneously with the general offensive on the Germans in France, the Allies opened a furious attack on the Turks in the Dardanelles and in all Asia Minor.

Long range guns mounted on barges entered the straits of the Dardanelles under protection of the dreadnaughts' fire and are violently bombarding the Turkish positions. A British squadron from Mitylene is shelling Frenk.

War preparations are going on here with feverish energy. The Premier announced that Greece would abide by her treaty obligations even if it necessitated taking up arms.

TWP. BONDS DID NOT SELL

Gillam-Jackson Loan & Trust Co., the Best Bidder Above Par, So Another Bid Day Set for Oct. 14.

The Nodaway Township Road Bonds did not sell yesterday. The terms of sale as provided in the printed circular of the county clerk furnished prospective bidders stated the bonds would not be sold below par. The best bid for the bonds at above par was by the Gillam-Jackson Loan & Trust Company, offering a premium of $402.50 on the bonds at 5½ per cent interest. However N. W. Halsey & Company of Chicago had a below par bid which figured better, offering to take the bonds at 4½ per cent interest less $637.00.

Mr. Gillam stated that if the court was going to consider below par bids he was ready to at once submit a better offer for the bonds at 4½ per cent than the Chicago offer.

The Court finally decided that if it was going to deviate from the terms of the sale as provided in the printed circular it would be only fair to give all the right to bid again, to which Mr. Gillam did not object, so the Court set October 14th as the day on which bids would again be received and the bonds sold to the best bidder regardless of whether above or below par.

The representatives of the Wm. R. Compton Company of St. Louis, on whose suggestion the Court decided to postpone the sale and let all bidders in, said his company would no doubt at that time make as good an offer as was before the Court.

Mr. Gillam would not say that his company would again bid as well for the bonds as they were now offering to pay for them.

MANY GAMING CASES

CHANGE OF VENUE TAKEN FROM JUDGE ELLISON.

OTHER COURT BUSINESS

Tom Workman Tax Case Settled and Jury Returned Verdict Yesterday for James Palmer.

In all but one of the gambling cases set for trial in circuit court today, the defendants, through their counsel, took a change of venue from the judge and that left nothing on the docket to try, and so the jury was discharged until tomorrow morning. It seems that when a defendant in a criminal case asks for a change of venue, the Court is bound to give it to him, but in these instances Judge Ellison appeared to be a little reluctant, if not somewhat provoked. He referred to the fact that in some of the cases when the defendants were before him at a former term he warned them that if they were ever guilty again and were brought up before him, he would give them the severest punishment that the law warranted, and now they came in, in view of that, and asked and forced a change of venue in the hope that they may get a lighter punishment before some other judge.

After the changes of venue were granted and Judge Ellison was considering what judge he would call in to try the cases, it was agreed between the defendants and the prosecuting attorney that L. C. Cook should sit as special judge in all but one of the cases, and in that one W. A. Blagg should sit as special judge.

The gaming cases were those of Oliver South, Warren Ellsworth, Dick Hankins, Charley Finnell, Clyde Fox, French Brown, Gene Hadden and Dick Ware, each pleading guilty and being fined $25 and costs by Judge Cook.

In the case of the state vs. Harlan Reece, charged with gaming, he pleaded guilty and was given a fine of $200 by Special Judge Blagg. Mr. Reece was paroled on payment of costs for the reason that the offense he was charged with was committed some two years ago and that since that time he has been an industrious young man and that his conduct has been of the best. The petition that was presented to the court on behalf of Reece was signed by the best citizens of Elmo and that community.

While Judge Blagg was on the bench he appointed a committee composed of M. E. Ford, John M. Dawson and Chas. McCaffrey to secure a picture of Judge W. C. Ellison for the court room. All of the portraits of former circuit judges of this county since the county was organized are displayed there. This committee will also arrange for a day when it will be presented.

Workman Case Settled.

The suit of W. R. Tilson, collector vs. Tom Workman for back taxes on personal property was settled out of court yesterday and dismissed. It is said that the taxes amounted to about $700 and with the penalty and court costs, it will amount to $815.

Jury Finds for Palmer.

The jury in the case of the City vs. Jim Palmer, colored, brought in a verdict for the defendant. The case was sent to circuit court on an appeal from the city. This is the second case the city has lost at this term of the court, and the costs in both of them will cost the city about $100.

Other Court Business.

Charles Nicholas, charged with disturbing the peace, was fined $5 and costs.

State vs. Fred Vandersloot, appeal from justice court, settled and dismissed.

City vs. Roy O. Yeaman, appeal from police court, judgment by agreement for the plaintiff for $10 and all costs and stay of execution for 60 days.

The Cyclone Fence Co., vs. Frank Crowdes, appeal from J. P. court, continued by agreement.

Antoine A. Steffes, petition for naturalization, continued to June 1916, term.

Epperson Case Tomorrow.

The case of the state vs. Harry Epperson, charged with carnal knowledge, is set for trial for tomorrow. It was said today that the case would not be tried.

C. E. Business Meeting Tonight.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Christian Endeavor will be held at the church tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

EVEN MONEY ON BIG SERIES

If "Alex" Pitches First Game, It's 7 to 5 on Philadelphia.—Many Freak Bets.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

New York, Oct. 5.—Betting on the final outcome of the world's series is about even money on each team. The general opinion is that the Red Sox are a stronger team but the fans are afraid of their money after the losses on Philadelphia Americans last year.

The odds are 7 to 5 on Philadelphia if Alexander pitches the opening game. A month ago fans were saying that they would give big odds on Boston but the plucky drive and the staying power of Philadelphia in the closing weeks of the National League race makes Red Sox fans now demand even money.

Many freak bets as usual are being made.

WILSON'S VICTORY

COMPLETE DISAVOWAL AND ADMISSION MADE BY GERMANY.

SITUATION IS CLEARED

Settling of Damage Amounts Only Difference Remaining Between U. S. and Kaiser.

Washington, Oct. 5.—Count Von Bernstorff, German ambassador, arrived here today for another conference with Secretary of State Lansing. He was extremely optimistic of a happy outcome of all negotiations.

Bernstorff handed Secretary Lansing a memorandum on the Arabic. It accepts the position of the United States that the attack should not have been made.

It admits that such a torpedoing is not justified on the grounds of self-defense and carries out the suggestion of the state department made last week that the German government be more specific.

The memorandum will be submitted to President Wilson if it is acceptable, nothing will remain to be accomplished except fixing the amount of damage for the loss of American lives on the Arabic.

This practically clears up the difference between the United States and Germany as the United States position on the Lusitania has already been accepted by Germany.

Secretary of State Lansing hinted broadly that the submarine controversy with Germany was now cleared up and all danger of a diplomatic break with that country passed.

The frost is on the pumpkin but the fodder is yet to be put into the shock.

It might be well to recognize somebody in Mexico while there is still some one to recognize.

Calling it "Champ Clark day" was equivalent to calling it democratic day. Champ Clark and democracy are never separated.

When Jas. R. Mann of Illinois, announced his withdrawal from the presidential race at St. Louis, the republicans were relieved of about the best material so far mentioned.

When republican newspapers and politicians show more than ordinary interest in trying to defeat the nomination of a democratic official, democrats should think several times before they turn him down. It means he is a strong man at the polls. The opposite party always wants to see men nominated that they can defeat.

Bulgaria has played hide and seek with the European belligerants as long as the game will be permitted. Both sides demand now that she either stay squarely on the fence or get off. She has gotten so far over balanced that it is hardly possible to get squarely neutral again and if she gets into the fray, there will be another map of the Balkan countries when it is all over.

The big democratic meeting in St. Joseph was a great success. Senator Reed expressed the sentiment of every speaker when he congratulated the party generally and the local committee particularly including Judge Mayer, Geo. Akers, Judge Culver, Frank Freytag and all those who had given their time to making it the great success it was.

The three principal speakers at the republican meeting at St. Louis were Senator Weeks of Massachusetts, Jas. R. Mann of Illinois and Jas. Watson of Indiana, all out of state talent. At the democratic meeting at St. Joseph there was no need for foreign statesmen. The Missouri democracy has statesmen and speakers that rank with the best in the nation.

When we strengthen the navy, what will we strengthen it with? Some time ago it seemed that battleships were to be useless on account of the submarines. Now it seems that a way has been discovered to make the submarine comparatively useless. Official favor is turning to speed and the battle cruiser that the "strong navy" men wouldn't consent to in the last congress, seems to be the vessel now in greatest favor. They can do damage and can get away and cost less than the dreadnaught.

LAUGHS SELF TO DEATH.

Victim Forced to Leave Dinner, Found Dead on Lawn.

Patchogue, N. Y.—During a dinner of the Jeffersonian Democratic club at Avery's hotel, on the beach at Blue Point, William P. Gardiner, a prominent resident of this place, strangely disappeared.

Mr. Gardiner laughed so immoderately at jokes that were passing about the table that he had to leave the table. He walked on the veranda, and then the merrymakers forgot all about him.

When he had not returned to his home his wife made inquiries. His friends recalled that he had left the table, but they had not seen him after that. A search was begun, and his body was found in a flower bed on the hotel lawn.

Coroner E. S. Moore of Bayshore ordered an autopsy, and it was found that he had died of heart disease; that probably his heart was not strong enough to stand the strain of his continued and hearty laughing.

PAT-PAT PLEADER A KISSER.

Anti-osculator Was Busy In Former Days, Say Nieces.

Huntington, W. Va.—Dr. E. W. Grover, president of the Huntington board of health, has met with an unkind setback in his campaign to do away with kissing and substitute the "pat-pat," in which one gently taps the cheeks of his beloved instead of imprinting old fashioned kisses on her lips.

His three nieces, Mrs. Mertle Funk, Mrs. Rome Baker and Mrs. Mary Grover, who live in Los Angeles, Cal., have now written:

"When it came to osculatory pursuits our uncle was a humdinger in bygone days. The other boys didn't have a chance with him. He was some kisser."

Dr. Grover has received hundreds of letters protesting against his "pat-pat" system. A Cleveland man has termed him "a superannuated old stick."

FINDS DISEASE PERIL IN SWIMMING POOLS

Health Board Warns Bathers of Polluted Water.

Washington.—A swimming pool, says the United States public health service, may become polluted and transmit disease.

Ninety-one large municipalities in the United States have established public swimming pools to meet the desire for knowledge of swimming. The public health service publishes an article by Dr. Wallace A. Manheimer of Columbia university on the results obtained from an examination of six pools.

It is pointed out that in swimming in polluted water typhoid fever, conjunctivitis and other diseases may be contracted. The report gives in detail the results of the bacterial analyses made of the various pools and also of the effects of refiltration and chemical disinfection.

When the water is unfiltered it is apt to be cloudy, thereby making the danger of accidental drowning very great. When refiltration is practiced the water becomes clear and this danger is obviated.

The report concludes that the cubic capacity of a pool affects its sanitary condition, that the process of adding dilution water is an efficient means of reducing the number of bacteria and that supervision of the health of attendants is an important factor.

The combination of refiltration and disinfection by the use of calcium-hypo-chlorite renders the sanitary conditions of the water excellent, says Dr. Manheimer.

Makes Smallest Penknife.

Altoona, Pa.—What is perhaps the smallest penknife in the world has just been completed by M. A. Kaufman, employed in a jewelry store here. The knife is kept in a bottle to prevent losing it. The workmanship must be seen through a magnifying glass.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

SUNDAY DESSERTS.

MAPLE MOUSSE.—Put in a saucepan one generous cupful of maple sirup, stir into it the beaten yolks of four eggs, place over the fire and stir until the mixture becomes hot. The eggs will thicken the sirup. Take from the fire at once and stand in a pan of ice water. Beat with an egg beater until light and cold; then gently fold in one pint of cream which has been well whipped. Pour in a mold, pack in ice and salt, using more salt than for ice cream, and do not stir. Let it stand four hours.

Coffee Mousse.—One cupful of sugar, two cupfuls of good coffee, one cupful of rich milk, one pint of heavy cream, one teaspoonful of vanilla and one tablespoonful of granulated gelatin.

Dissolve the sugar in the coffee and add the gelatin, which has been softened in a little cold water. Set aside till it cools and begins to thicken slightly; then add the milk and cream, whipped stiff. To do this successfully beat the cream till it commences to get thick and add the milk a little at a time till all is in, beating between additions. Pour into a mold, put paraffin paper over the top and set on lid, which should fit tightly. Pack in ice and salt and let it stand for three hours.

Pineapple Mousse.—Soak one tablespoonful of gelatin in one-quarter of a cupful of cold water, add one cupful of hot pineapple sirup, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and one cupful of sugar. Strain and cool. As the mixture thickens fold in the whip from one quart of thin cream. Pack in salt and ice four hours.

D. A. R. TO ERECT MONUMENTS AT HISTORIC SPOTS IN STATE.

GIVES EARLY HISTORY

Mrs. Charles . Bell Writes Interesting Story of Old Santa Fe Route for Maryville Chapter.

To the Missouri Daughters of the American Revolution, is credited this year two things, which have given an impetus to the state loyalty of all her people. Those things are the making of the first Monday in October an official day of state commemoration to be known as "Missouri Day" and the marking of the historic spots of the state.

At a meeting of the Maryville chapter held Saturday afternoon Mrs. Chas. T. Bell gave an unusually interesting article on the historic spots of Missouri. The second part of Mrs. Bell's writing took up the Santa Fe Trail and the historic places along the way.

In the marking of the Santa Fe Trail the Missouri Daughters have worked with the National Old Trails association and have placed red granite boulders at the most historic spots. The history of the old trail as told by Mrs. Bell is of particular interest and is as follows:

"Old Franklin, in Howard county, was founded in 1806 by a colony of one hundred and fifty families from Kentucky. It is of special interest to the Daughters because it became the starting point of the Santa Fe Trail and the social and commercial center for all the immigrants who came from the older states. It was the cradle of the Trail.

A boulder and bronze tablet was erected by the Daughters in honor of the men of Franklin who blazed the road one hundred and fifty miles across Missouri to New Santa Fe and on across the plains—almost one thousand miles—to old Santa Fe. The tablet bears the following inscription:

"Captain William Becknell of Franklin—'Father of the Santa Fe Trail'—with four companions led the first organized trade expedition to Santa Fe September 1, 1821. Franklin—'Cradle of the Trail' 1821.

Great Highway of the World.

"This trail, one of the great highways of the world stretched nearly one thousand miles from Franklin, Missouri, to Santa Fe, New Mexico. 'From Civilization to Sun Down.' Marked by the Daughters of the American Revolution and the State of Missouri 1909."

The Santa Fe Trail and the Boone's Lick road have been preserved and made state highways through the efforts of the D. A. R. Mrs. John Van Brunt and Miss Elizabeth Gentry of Kansas City, worked for six years to arouse interest in the old trail and finally secured an appropriation from the state to assist in the work.

The Santa Fe Trail stretches seven hundred miles from Missouri to New Mexico. Long traversed by buffalo and Indians, it was used by the Missouri pioneers who opened trade relations with Mexico in 1804. I have always taken a personal interest in it because my father, in 1850, then a boy of seventeen, crossed the Trail driving oxen.

This history of Missouri from 1820 to 1860 is, in part, a history of the Trail.

The Santa Fe trade was the greatest developing influence of the state for it caused the east to overflow through Missouri into the Great Unknown West, and as it flowed back through Missouri, it left its impress. Caravans of prairie schooners packed with merchandise flowed westerly through Howard, Saline, Lafayette, and Jackson counties.

The Missouri part of the Trail, one hundred and fifty miles, has been marked by twenty-nine monuments. They were dedicated in May, 1913.

Westport the Gate of the West.

Westport was the gate to the great unknown country called "The West." New Santa Fe was the last town in Missouri on the trail, for here it crawled over the Missouri line into Kansas. Plainsmen called it "the last point between civilization and sundown."

Independence, near Kansas City, was an outfitting point for the Santa Fe trade from 1827. Here the marker is set on the court house green. Mrs. Van Brunt says, "Many of the buildings facing that square have seen the panorama of the Trail go by."

At Fort Osage the marker was placed on the edge of the bluff. This is a historic spot for in 1724 De Bourgemont gaily unfurled the French flag; in 1804 Lewis and Clark camped there on their famous expedition, planted the stars and stripes and named the site Fort Clark; in 1808 the United States government changed the name to Fort Osage in recognition of the treaty made with the Osage Indians.

Wellington, Lexington, and Marshall were points on the Trail and have markers. At Arrow Rock, a ferry which was established in 1811 crossed the Missouri river laden with Santa Fe traders on their way from Franklin to Santa Fe. After the river was closed to transportation and the stage coach vanished, Arrow Rock was forgotten and for many years was isolated. The marking of the Trail and the opening of the state highway caused one speaker in referring to Arrow Rock to say, "Thanks to the Santa Fe Trail Committee we are back on the map of the state again. You have opened the book of life to us."

Start at New Franklin.

At Old Franklin, now New Franklin, was the starting point of the Trail. Here the monument of Missouri, rose granite, is erected as we have described. Howard county declared May 17, 1913, as a holiday so the people could attend the dedication of this monument. Mrs. Van Brunt writes, "Old citizens told us that the dedication was the biggest event recorded in the history of the town since the arrival of the steamboat "Independent" from St. Louis in 1819."

Many fugitive trips had been made from Missouri to Santa Fe proir to 1821; the trip of Capt. William Becknell and his four companions led by the noted Missouri trapper, Ezekiel Williams, which left Franklin September 21, 1821, was the first organized and successful trip; this was epoch-making for it brought that vast movement that changed the whole West, a movement that swept aside a civilization that antedated ours and gave an empire to the United States.

Never was modern pageant more vivid with historical interest than the old highway of civilization's march across plain and mountain, and the shadows of the past will always line the Old Trail as the traveler journeys down it. The day of the Santa Fe Trail was the heroic age of the West, the story of the Trail is the Epic of the West.

Kansas City Stock Market.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Oct. 5.—On account of increase in buying for eastern killers here last week beef cattle advanced 15 to 50 cents, corn fed cattle getting the most gain. Stockers and feeders had a weaker tendency, although best grades held up almost steady. The cattle supply today is 33,000 head, and the market is slow, but there proved to be a good outlet. After the run got shaped up, and matters down to a trading basis, the good killing cattle sold steady to strong in some cases, weak to 10 lower in other cases. Stockers and feeders were also uneven, the best kinds steady, low grades weak.

Some primeyearlings broughth $10.00 and heavy steers $9.85, medium grades of corn fed cattle $8.65, to $9.25, best grass cattle $8.25 to $9.00, medium to plain grass steers $7.00 to $7.75, low grade grass cattle down to $6.25, and in the quarantine division grass steers sold at $5.60 to $6.45. Cows and heifers are stadey today, $6.75 about the limit on fed cows, $9.50 on prime heifers middle grade cows $5.25 to $5.75, medium heifers $7.00 to $8.25.

The situation at Chicago is unchanged, and order buying for eastern killers here will be much heavier than ordinarily this week. More country buyers are here today than any day last week, although there were 33,578 stockers and feeders shipped to the country last week. Purchases by the Eastern killers last week amounted to 6,196 head, making 39,774 cattle bought and shipped out, almost 60 per cent of the total supply.

Hogs sold weak at the close last week, but receipts and demand are again on a strong basis giving salesmen the advantage, and prices are 10 higher, supply 8,000 head. Pigs are scarce, which indicates health in the country, also plenty of feed, and they sold up to $8.25 today. Light weights are most numerous and have lost some of their premium, medium weights over topping them in some cases now, both kinds selling at $8.15 today, with a rumor late of a drove of 200lb hogs at $8.25, heavy weights largely at $7.60 to $8.00.

Order buyers for eastern killers are stimulating the hog market also taking a heavy percentage of the supply last week, and about 2,500 of the run today, which keeps prices here keyed up several notches above other Missouri river markets.

Sheep and lambs sold firm last week, except on Thursday when buyers attempted to inaugurate a break, but without success.

Receipts are 12,000 today, market strong and active, top lambs $8.75, medium natives around $8.25, fat ewes $5.75, wethers, $6.25. Feeding lambs are 15 to 25 higher than a week ago, at $8.00 to $8.35, breeding ewes firm, choice young ewes up to $7.50, good western breeders $6.00 to $6.75, feeding ewes $5.00 to $5.50. Receipts from the west should run heavy through October.

PORTO RICO PLAN AID TO LABORERS

Poor Men Able to Buy Farms and Homes Cheap.

WILL BE UNDER BOARD'S EYE

Governor to Appoint Members of Homestead Commission Provided For by New Act—Will Have to Inhabit and Develop New Territory—Landowners Under Small Obligation.

San Juan, Porto Rico.—Governor Yager is preparing to appoint members of the homestead commission, provided for by an act of the last legislature of Porto Rico.

This commission will have to deal with a homestead problem to inhabit and develop a new territory. It is charged equally with developing the resources of the people and the island.

The last legislature, however, appropriated $10,000 for the purpose of making further surveys, and government surveyors are now at work near Claies. These lands are to be offered to Porto Rican laborers on easy terms in an effort to establish them as small farmers and land owners.

Although Porto Rico is dependent solely on agriculture, there are comparatively few small farmers. In a measure this is due to the fact that much land is either held in large tracts or is farmed to crops that demand large acreage.

GOVERNOR YAGER.

The laborers on these plantations and elsewhere frequently live in houses which they own, but which are built on leased land. Agricultural workers seldom own both house and land, and it is the exception rather than the rule when they do any farming for themselves. They live largely on food imported into the island, chiefly rice and beans and codfish.

The new homestead law provides that the government may sell to deserving laborers tracts of land for farming purposes not to exceed five acres each or tracts for dwelling purposes not to exceed 500 square meters, the laborers to have from eleven to thirteen years to pay for the land, which is to be tax free until finally paid for.

In order to be of assistance to the most needy the law provides that no one may become an applicant who earns more than $500 a year or who is not married or who does not have a family to support. The law also provides that for a period of seven years those taking the small farms must cultivate them under the supervision of the homestead commission.

So that the homesteader may become the ultimate owner of the land the law provides that the homestead may not be taken for debt and it may not be transferred to another except under regulations established by the commission. If a homesteader dies his heirs may assume the obligation of paying for the property and obtain title to it when the property has been completely paid for.

The only obligation which the homesteader takes upon himself is that within one year after he comes into possession of a five acre farm he must build a shack of a value of at least $50 and have at least one-third of the land under cultivation within two years. From the third to the thirteenth year he must pay to the government annually a sum equal to 10 per cent of the assessed value of the property, and he must live upon it for at least a period of five years. In the event that these conditions are not complied with, the property reverts to the government, to be again disposed of by the homestead commission.

Deaf, Twists Neck, Hears.

Troy, Kan.—Following an attack of typhoid pneumonia, Frank High, a young man of this place, was totally deaf for ten months, and his doctor failed to help him. A few days ago, in a tussle with Zack Bailey, High's neck got twisted, and his hearing came back instantly.

ROCKEFELLER REMINISCENT.

Richest Man Tells of Taking His First Job, Sixty Years Ago.

Tarrytown, N. Y.—Sixty years ago John D. Rockefeller took his first job, and when the old man's attention was called to the fact it was evident that he had been thinking of the old days and that first job, for he had facts and figures at his fingers' ends.

"It was Sept. 26, 1855, that I went to work in Cleveland as an assistant bookkeeper," he said, "and I worked from that date until Jan. 1 for $50. I wonder what the young men of today would say if they had to work that time for the money I received."

"And I suppose then you got a raise?" a reporter asked.

"Well, the rest speaks for itself," he replied.

Mr. Rockefeller appeared to take much pleasure in thinking of the old days and that first job. He gave the reporter the impression that any young man who was willing to work and was thrifty would get along in the world.

RECALLS 1861 SCENES.

Preacher, Once Fiddler, Made and Lost Seven Fortunes.

Shasta, Cal.—S. D. Newbill, evangelist, has just been on a visit here to recall the scenes of 1861, when he was a gold miner.

"I mined some, but I fiddled more," explained the preacher, "for the miners liked my fiddling and paid well for it at the dances.

"I came across the plains with ox teams and made $1,200 on the way selling whisky. I was in this old town for over a year, but I don't find any of the old faces or buildings.

"I remember paying $1 for a mince pie, but I can't find even the site of the bakery."

Newbill explained that he followed all the gold rushes, made seven fortunes and lost them all. Finally, twelve years ago, when broke, he took to preaching.

LAST TRIP IN SEARCH OF A LOST GOLD MINE

If Unsuccessful Prospector Will Give It Up.

New Westminster, B. C.—Wilbur Armstrong, a Washington prospector of seventy-two, plunged into the mountains of Pitt range recently on his tenth trip in search of Siumagh's mine. For ten years Armstrong has made this pilgrimage every summer, but this, he says, will be the last if it proves as barren as the others.

Armstrong is not the only man who has headed search parties in the attempt to locate this hidden treasure, whose location is asserted to be within twenty miles of the head of Pitt lake, yet which has been discovered by but one man, who is now dead, since Siumagh, the Indian after whom it is named, was hanged in the jailyard at New Westminster in 1891.

Walter Jackson, the second discoverer, panned out thousands of dollars' worth of gold in a few days when he located it in 1901. Burying the main part of his treasure, he came out with dust and nuggets to the value of $8,000, intending to return and stake claims at his leisure. But he fell sick and, being about to die, bethought him of Andrew Hall, who had grubstaked him at Guytos many years before. He wrote to Hall and drew a chart. Hall, finding himself in need of money in the Yukon, sold the letter and chart to a cousin of Armstrong, to whom the documents finally came.

Jackson's description of his find, which is in a creek in a canyon to which there is no outlet except by an underground channel, says in part:

"In going upstream I found a place where the bedrock was bare, and you will hardly believe me whea I tell you the bedrock was yellow with gold. In a few days I gathered thousands, and there were thousands more in sight."

MUTE, TALKS TO ANIMALS.

Farmer Has Been Unable to Speak to Friends For Two Years.

Crane, Mo.—Physicians are puzzled by an ailment which strikes W. H. Hilton dumb when he attempts to address persons near him, but permits him to speak plainly to persons at a distance or to animals.

Hilton is a farmer and has suffered with the affliction since he had the whooping cough two years ago. He is sixty-five years old.

Cools His Feet, Loses Job.

Bakersfield, Cal.—Traffic Officer Pinnell stood at the post of duty at a principal street crossing with his feet planted on a 300 pound cake of ice and watched the perspiring populace go by. Many persons laughed. But the chief of police consulted the city manager, and the manager conferred with several councilmen, and none of them even smiled. They discharged Pinnell for conduct unbecoming an officer and reflecting on the climate of Bakersfield.

Is 107; She Wants to Vote.

Glens Falls, N. Y.—"Of course, I haven't many years to live, but my one ambition is to live long enough to cast a vote, and I think I will." These were the words of Mrs. Mary Sage, 107 years old, of Darrowsville, a small hamlet near here, as she signed the yellow slip indorsing woman suffrage. Mrs. Sage is the oldest woman in northern New York.

"The I. I. Club."

The following poem was written by Mrs. E. W. Babb and Miss Leta Babb and was read before the meeting of the Ireland Industrial club held last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Claude Shell, northwest of the city.

Perhaps you ladies here today
Are wishing that you knew,
The reason why our little club
Meets every week or two.
But if a minute you will wait
I'll tell you all about it,
About the good times that we have
And hope you will not doubt it.

We are the treasures of a gem
Which marks us from the rest,
And makes our band of workers rank
Among the very best.
It is two bright and sparkling eyes
Through which we see the morrow
Which guides our footsteps from false paths
Likely to cause us sorrow

We are the Ireland Industrial club
Which means of course we labor,
Each one to help unselfishly
And willingly her neighbor.
On meeting days all our dull cares
Are lightly put aside,
Each shadow takes a brighter glow
And frowns and troubles hide.

With crochet hooks we firmly chain
Our friendship links together,
Our needles work the sunbeams bright
Into the dullest weather.
Our little band of workers
Are true in everyway
So if you'll please excuse me
I'll let them have their say.

CHANT.

Rub-a-dub, Rub-a-dub-dub,
Here's long life to the I. I. Club,
In sorrow or gladness, rain or shine
We are friends for all the time,
And just as proud as we can be
Of our little club, the I. I. C.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. HANSON SAYS NORMAL CHANCES ARE UNUSUALLY GOOD.

MAY PLAY M. U. HERE

Whole Team Is Back and Several New Men Are Stars.—Schedule in a Month.

In the last basketball game of the year at the State Normal School last year, as every "frenzied fan" will remember, the championship of the Intercollegiate circuit was settled. Drury won the game and the title but the Maryville Normals were second.

This year Drury faces the season with almost an entirely new bunch; Walter Hanson, athletic director of the Normal, faces it with every man on that last year's team back and a bunch of new men so good that he believes some o the old men will be beaten out of their places.

In addition to that rosy outlook, the team will have for its coach the captain of the University of Missouri team last year, George Palfreyman, who is an assistant in manual training and athletics. Palfreyman was also a letter man in baseball at the U., so he will be a great help in that sport next spring.

The team line-up last year which is here again, was Lee Scarlett, Fred Vandersloot, Howard Leech, Ralph Mc Clintock and Walter Scott. The last named is not in school yet but will enter before the opening of the season Those are the regulars.

But among the new men is Homer Scott who played such a stellar game for Maryville High School last year. His chances of making a regular place for himself are very good. C. H. McReynolds was a member of the team and a letter man several years ago. Oscar Lollis starred for Benton high, St. Joseph last year. F. W. Hunter was an important cog in the Co. F, machine at Shenandoah, Ia., for several years.

Other Maryville boys who are out for the team are W. E. Wakeman, who will also pitch for the Normal next spring; Omer Lyle, Edison Blagg and Clyde Sawyers. The other members of the squad of more than twenty-five are:

C. M. Saville, the miler from New Hampton, who ran here in the high school track meet; C. Hahn, Ralph Palmer, H. Miller, Garard, Hannan, Earl Borchers, H. Clayton, Paul Powell L. Heifner, C. Wells and Lowell Livengood, editor-in-chief of the Courier.

The chances for a championship this year are unusually good, Mr. Hanson thinks. He likes his team so well that he wants them to meet the University of Missouri team before the opening of the season and has written for games, preferably to be played here It is probable that he can get a game as the M. U. team makes a "conditioning" trip preliminary to the opening of its Missouri Valley schedule. Palfreyman's influence with the coaches at Missouri makes the chances for the game good also.

So begin to whet your support appetites for a look at the University team. But the big thing toward which all are directed is the championship of the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic association in basketball. That body will hold its annual fall meeting in Kansas City the first week in November at which Mr. Hanson will arrange a schedule.

As has been noticed, Drury lost almost the whole team by graduation, William Jewell, two; Tarkio, one; and Missouri Wesleyan several. Missouri Valley at Marshall will have a team and the Springfield Normal will present almost the same line-up. A strong fight is expected from Central College, Fayette, this year.

Mr Hanson expects to give over the coaching of the team to Mr. Palfreyman and to manage the business affairs of athletics which are becoming work enough to keep a man busy. He will also do a little scout duty before important games.

A large number of men reported yesterday for soccer football which will be used for about a month to get the players in condition.

THE KITCHEN CUPBOARD

HOMEMADE SIRUPS.

In making jelly or preserves the thrifty housewife saves the extra cupful of juice or fruit, adds more sugar and water and bottles it as a homemade sirup. Peach, plum, currant, blackberry and raspberry all yield most flavorful liquids. Indeed, one of the best ways in which to use up imperfect fruit or the leftovers which will not keep is to stew them rapidly, strain, add sugar and water and bottle, using the bottles with metal caps or the ordinary bottle or quart jar.

Ginger, mint and cloves are all hot weather seasonings. They can be combined with simple sirups, with iced tea or any of the carbonated waters, vichy, etc. The use of these bottled waters is growing in the home, as iced tea with vichy or fruit sirups with seltzer have a piquant tang that refreshes the heat weary body.

Ways of Using Fruit Juice.

Fruit salads are always welcome, and all practical buyers know that the best fruiterers reduce prices of specimens that are a trifle blemished, but quite good enough for cutting up into a salad. Melon salad with cherries is novel and exceedingly good. Gooseberries may be served in many ways. Here is a new way of serving pears: The pears are cut in half and the center is scooped out; then the hollow is filled with creamed Camembert cheese with a dash of chopped parsley, the dish being afterward chilled on the ice. Peaches, chilled and having the halves filled with vanilla ice cream, quickly rolled in chopped almonds and served with iced raspberry sirup, are delicious morsels.

Grape Juice.

With ten pounds of grapes use three pounds of sugar. Pick over, wash and drain the grapes well. Weigh them and put in a porcelain lined kettle with one cupful of water. Set over the fire and as soon as they burst mash them through a sieve and strain through cheesecloth. Return to stove, add sugar, simmer twenty minutes and bottle at once in bottles which have been previously heated. Set the bottles in a pan of water while filling. Do not put in all the sugar at once. Sometimes it is too much, but it depends on the grapes.

Luncheons For Children.

GROWING school children will thrive on (1) vegetable soup, which is particularly appetizing at this season when so many fresh vegetables are obtainable; peanut butter sandwiches, fresh fruit. (2) Baked beans, lettuce sandwiches and bananas. (3) Split pea soup (peas soaked over night), potato or some other vegetable, salad, fresh fruit. (4) Plain omelet, lettuce or sliced tomatoes, boiled rice pudding. (5) Cold meat sandwiches, one green vegetable, fig bars and hot cocoa or milk with each luncheon.

Sandwich Fillings.—Chop cold boiled haddock (be careful to get out all bones), chop an onion very fine and add salad dressing to make as thin as desired. Use for sandwiches or put in glass jelly tumbler, to be eaten with bread and butter. Make a curry sauce to use with chopped fish or meat. Any kind of boiled meat, lamb, beef, veal or ham can be mixed with salad dressing. Use onion with beef, pickled cucumber with lamb, celery with veal or chicken. Chop peanuts and mix with salad dressing, or spread bread with peanut butter; then slice bananas thin and lay the circles over the bread. Cover with another slice of bread spread with peanut butter.

Scrambled egg put between slices of bread—graham, rye or brown bread—will be liked, and if bacon fried crisp and chopped fine is added it will taste better and also add more nourishment. Spread bread with jam or jelly and sprinkle with chopped peanuts. Try the old fashioned crackers and cheese.

Nut Sandwiches.—Mix equal parts of grated cheese and chopped English walnuts (other nuts can be used), season with salt and pepper and spread between thin slices of bread slightly buttered. When meat sandwiches are desired cold beef or veal loaf or devilled ham makes most excellent ones.

Date Sandwiches.—Stone and chop the dates until soft enough to make into a paste and spread between slices of bread and butter.

"DEAD" MAN APPEARS.

Puzzle Is, Who Was Drowned Person Identified and Buried as O'Brien?

Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—Like a ghost aged Andrew O'Brien appeared in St. Peter's church at mass. At the earlier mass prayers had been said for him, and no one doubted it was he who had been buried in St. Peter's cemetery following the finding of his supposed body in the Hudson river.

The dead man was positively identified by Chief of Police McCabe as Andrew O'Brien, who had not been seen for several days. Others, including Dr. J. M. Poucher, who knew O'Brien well, were as positive as the chief.

The drowned man was buried, though not by the side of O'Brien's wife. When she died, many years ago, she was placed in the plot of her own family.

After the excitement due to his appearance had subsided O'Brien said he had gone into the country to work on a farm.

The body of the man buried as O'Brien will be exhumed by Coroner Selfridge and photographed for identification.

SNAKE EATS GLASS EGGS.

Enters by Knothole, but After Meal Is Too Fat to Get Out.

Baltimore.—Snakes which in the past have feasted generously on real eggs in the chicken coop of McGill Belt, who has a farm near Sugar Loaf mountain, Frederick county, have lately taken to stealing his glass eggs. A dozen of these artificial nest eggs were taken before he was able to get on the trail of the snakes.

The last snake to steal a glass egg entered by way of a knothole, but could not depart by the same route because the egg protruded so far that its body would not go through the hole. The snake was captured, then opened, and the egg taken out and placed back in the nest.

FAMINE DECIMATING AFRICAN OSTRICHES

Drought and Food Needs of Horses Have Been Causes.

Cape Town, South Africa.—Ostriches in South Africa are dying by scores because their food has been taken to feed British cavalry horses. Besides the withdrawal of many thousands of tons of alfalfa, which is the main food of the ostriches during the winter, drought has added to the scarcity of food.

It is estimated that the farms in South Africa, which are the principal sources of supply of ostrich feathers, have lost 30 per cent of their adult birds. Among young birds the mortality has been still heavier.

Formerly markets for the buying of feathers were open daily in Cape province, but with the advent of the war there was a complete cessation of trade exchange. It was only at the end of June of this year that merchants reopened the markets. In the week ending July 5 14,000 pounds were sold.

This was considered a record week, and it was immediately followed by a trade slump, which resulted in the closing of the markets. They have since been opened only a few days in each week, and the sales have been sluggish.

FORTUNE FALLS TO FIANCEE.

Girl Inherits $2,400,000 After Marrying Another Man.

Punxsutawney, Pa.—Mrs. Fred Smith of this city, formerly Miss Mary Hadden, has fallen heir to a fortune estimated at $2,400,000. It was bequeathed her, together with his home, by Harry Riams of Buffalo, who died April 26, 1914.

Riams and Mrs. Smith, then Miss Hadden, were engaged to be married. The wedding was set for May 30, 1914, but Riams was then dying.

His will, which has just been made public, leaves the bulk of his estate to his former sweetheart, but she cannot get possession until she is twenty-three, three years from now.

USES TOYS AS CHURCH LURE.

Jersey Pastor Thus Hopes to Win Couples With Children.

Plainfield, N. J.—As a special inducement to parents with young children to attend the First Presbyterian church of this city, the Rev. Dr. Charles E. Herring announced that he will have toys in certain pews to amuse the youngsters while their elders take part in the services.

Church officials kept watch of the young married couples with children who strolled by the church on Sabbath afternoons, and as they all passed the church without entering a reason was sought. Restless children was the cause, and the toy idea was then conceived.

At Seventy-two Gets First Train Ride.

Grass Valley, Cal.—Sixty-five years ago as a girl of seven, Matilda Woods came to this city with her parents, made her home in a log cabin, in the midst of pine trees, and when she reached maturity was married to the township constable. Her friends brought her stories of the outside world, but their tales never moved her to wander away from her fireside. Now at the age of seventy-two she has just taken her first ride on a railroad train and will get her first glimpse of the ocean. She has gone to visit a daughter in San Francisco.

PEACH Butter.—Any of the cheap peaches will lend themselves to peach butter. At this time all peaches should be washed before paring. The peaches are fuzzy and dusty, and if not washed the parings are not fit to use for sirup. To each quart of pared and cut peaches add one cupful of water, one cupful of granulated sugar and one-half teaspoonful of salt; put into a porcelain lined kettle and bring to a boil quickly, skim, then boil slowly for one hour. Some peaches are more juicy than others. In that case they must boil longer or less water used. The peach must not separate. The butter can be flavored with a little ground cinnamon or spice if desired. Sterilize the jars and fill while hot.

Pear Marmalade.—Choose nice, fine flavored pears; pare, core and quarter and drop into cold water. When ready to use drain and weigh, and to each pound of fruit allow three-fourths of a pound of sugar. Pour over just enough water to cover and simmer until tender. Make a sirup with the sugar and some of the water in which the pears were boiled; add to this sirup lemons sliced very thin, using about one lemon to each six pounds of fruit. Boil the sirup until thick, then add the pears and simmer until they are clear. Pack the fruit into jars and pour the sirup over it.

Green Tomato Butter.—Slice eight pounds of green tomatoes very thin and chop one orange and one lemon very fine, being careful to remove the seeds. Boil together one hour, add five pounds of sugar, a small teacupful of vinegar and cook until it becomes a clear, smooth mass. Put this in jelly glasses.

Peach Marmalade.—Boil together three pounds of sugar and three cupfuls of cold water fifteen minutes. Add twenty-four peaches cut up small and boil one and one-half hours. Stir frequently, so as not to burn. Put in jelly glasses and seal when cold.

NEWS DISPATCHES FROM THE INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.

VOLUME 6. MARYVILLE, MISSOURI. TUESDAY, OCT. 5, 1915. NO. 106.

NOW FOR BIG WEEK

CORN SHOW, FARMERS' INSTITUTE AND TEACHERS MEETING.

COMES LAST OF OCTOBER

Fashion Show Probably Will Be Held Then Also.—Miss Anthony Tells of Work.

The seventh annual Nodaway County Agricultural and Domestic Science association, better known as the Corn Show, will be held in Maryville October 28, 29 and 30. In connection with it, the Farmers' Institute at the State Normal School, the County Teachers' Meeting and probably the Fashion Show by the merchants will be held.

Another attraction of the week will be the oratory and declamation contests at which each school in the county or in Gentry county may enter a boy and a girl They will be held Thursday night, October 28, in the Normal auditorium. Prof. H. P. Swinehart, professor of English in the Normal, will have charge of the contests.

It has not been definitely decided by the teachers of the Maryville high school whether they will attend the State Teachers Association in Kansas City, November 11-13 or attend the meetings of the county here the last week in October.

So that last week in October will be a great week. The principal purpose of the association is "to stimulate and direct educational progress along practical lines." Miss Hettie M. Anthony, teacher of domestic science at the State Normal school, said yesterday concerning the work of the association:

"The number of girls and boys taking part in the Domestic Science and Agriculture contests has steadily increased year by year until the number is so large that it is attracting the attention of all the educational institutions of the state.

"Are parents realizing what a vital part of a youth's education these contests may be made? Boys and girls study and observe more closely when in a contest and it stimulates them to want to do things worth while and well. The new key note of education is "Service" not to cram the brain with knowledge for school room purposes, but for use in life. The service rendered by these contests result in better and more healthy homes and better crops.

"The contests also arouse on interest, so the girls will want to join the Home Economics clubs and classes for more careful study as will the boys in the study of Scientific Agriculture.

"Parents are and should encourage these young people in this work and the business men are showing great wisdom in getting behind the movement in the way of prizes and financial support.

The contest is held the last week in October, a number of good speakers as well as a large exhibit will be open to the public. It is hoped that the community will show its interest by a large and loyal attendance."

VISITS HERE AFTER 28 YEARS.

Enoch Drumm, who has not been back to Maryville since he moved to St. Joseph twenty-eight years ago, is visiting A. Knox and other nephews and nieces. Mr. Drumm is 72 years old. He was born in Ohio but came to Nodaway county in 1866 and lived several miles east of Maryville.

Mr. Drumm lived in Maryville for three years just before moving to St. Joseph in 1887. He was in business in that city until two months ago when Mrs. Drumm died. He retired from his business at that time and has been visiting since.

Light Frosts Everywhere But No Damage of Consequence Reported. Highest Was 60.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Kansas City, Oct. 5.—The temperature dropped to 40 here last night with light frosts. More frost is predicted for tonight with warmer weather Wednesday.

It was 34 at Jefferson City with a heavy frost; 35 at Concordia; 38 at Wichita with a light frost. Light frosts are reported all through western Kansas.

The minimum temperature here was 32 and there was considerable frost but no damage was reported. The cold of yesterday and the clear sky was a warning and everything which could be protected was cared for. The highest the mercury had climbed in twenty-four hours at noon today was 60.

MAY HAVE FOOTBALL

SCHOOL BOARD DOES NOT OPPOSE IT, REPLY TO PETTITION.

TEACHERS WILL DECIDE

Matter Left in Hands of Westbrook and McGrew.—Holidays for Association Meetings.

Indications are that football will be re-instated in the Maryville high school as a major sport after this year. It will probably be played some this year as an inter-class and intra-school sport but no outside games will be scheduled.

A large petition of high school students, townspeople and teachers was presented to the school board last night at its regular monthly meeting. It has been more than ten years since the high school has had a football team. The board went on record as not opposed to football but left the matter in the hands of Superintendent W. M. Westbrook and Principal George P. McGrew.

They will announce their decision after conferring with Paul Becker, director of athletics in the high school. If football is to be played, a number of teams will be chosen as the various baseball teams were and they will play a school series.

This work would be done as a preliminary to turning out a team next year which would be a credit to Maryville and which could schedule games with high schools of its rank and size. It is believed that the opposition to football which was so prevalent under the old style of play has disappeared since the new open, passing kind of game has been adopted.

Concerning Teachers Meetings.

The board voted to give Thursday and Friday, November 11 and 12, as holidays to the teachers if all desired to attend the meeting of the State Teachers' association in Kansas City.

Superintendent Westbrook was asked to confer with the teachers and if all of them did not want to go to Kansas City, then a holiday would be declared for the meetings of the teachers of the county here during the last week in October.

League Business Meeting.

The regular monthly business meeting of the Epworth League of the Buchanan Street Methodist church was held last night. The principal action taken was the decision to hold a "Backward Social" Friday evening, October 15. Every person coming will be fined for each article of clothing which is not on backwards. The organization of a mission study class was discussed.

ABOUT DR. EVANS

ADDITIONAL FACTS CONCERNING ONE OF LYCEUM MEN.

"LORDS OF THE LAND"

Great Congregational Minister to Talk Plainly About Aristocracy of Wealth and Democracy.

The Maryville Lyceum association has received a folder giving more complete details concerning the men who were secured to take the two remaining places on the course. Interest was aroused in Dr. Arthur Walwyn Evans when it was announced that he was a relative of David Lloyd-George.

But Dr. Evans does not go on the reputation of his relatives. Although only 30 years old, he is pastor of one of the large Congregational churches of Ohio, succeeding in that pulpit Dr. Edward A. Steiner, another lyceum star. He has held that pastorate five years.

Educated in a Sctoch university, he was sent by the Church of Scotland to the Shetland Islands as an evangelist and for several years preached all over Great Britain. At Ballater, he addressed the Guard of Honor of King George VII and many notable men. During the remarkable Welsh revival, he spoke every night to audiences of five thousand in Aberdeen.

Dr. Evans is now a contributing editor to the new International Bible Encyclopaedia of which Dr. James Orr of Glasgow is editor. The damands for him as a public speaker on lyceum and chautauqua platforms have been so great that he has been induced to give up his pastorate in the near future and devote all his time to literary and lyceum work.

This is his third season on the American platform during which time he has appeared in courses with such men as Bryan, Hillis and Gunsaulus. He is characterized as a Welsh wit and humorist. His three best-known lectures are "The Mill and Millions," "The Language of Liberty," and "The Lords of the Land."

"The Lords of the Land" is the lecture which Dr. Evans gives most frequently and it is probable that it will be given in Maryville. It deals with the struggle between the aristocracy of wealth and democracy. While he deals primarily with industrial and economic conditions in this country, his relationship to David Lloyd-George and his early life in all parts of Great Britain makes it possible for him to speak with authority on the European side of the question.

BIG DRIVE ON DARDANELLES

Offensive in Asia Minor Simultaneous With New Activity on Both Fronts.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

Athens, Oct. 5.—Simultaneously with the general offensive on the Germans in France, the Allies opened a furious attack on the Turks in the Dardanelles and in all Asia Minor.

Long range guns mounted on barges entered the straits of the Dardanelles under protection of the dreadnaughts' fire and are violently bombarding the Turkish positions. A British squadron from Mitylene is shelling Frenk.

War preparations are going on here with feverish energy. The Premier announced that Greece would abide by her treaty obligations even if it necessitated taking up arms.

TWP. BONDS DID NOT SELL

Gillam-Jackson Loan & Trust Co., the Best Bidder Above Par, So Another Bid Day Set for Oct. 14.

The Nodaway Township Road Bonds did not sell yesterday. The terms of sale as provided in the printed circular of the county clerk furnished prospective bidders stated the bonds would not be sold below par. The best bid for the bonds at above par was by the Gillam-Jackson Loan & Trust Company, offering a premium of $402.50 on the bonds at 5½ per cent interest. However N. W. Halsey & Company of Chicago had a below par bid which figured better, offering to take the bonds at 4½ per cent interest less $637.00.

Mr. Gillam stated that if the court was going to consider below par bids he was ready to at once submit a better offer for the bonds at 4½ per cent than the Chicago offer.

The Court finally decided that if it was going to deviate from the terms of the sale as provided in the printed circular it would be only fair to give all the right to bid again, to which Mr. Gillam did not object, so the Court set October 14th as the day on which bids would again be received and the bonds sold to the best bidder regardless of whether above or below par.

The representatives of the Wm. R. Compton Company of St. Louis, on whose suggestion the Court decided to postpone the sale and let all bidders in, said his company would no doubt at that time make as good an offer as was before the Court.

Mr. Gillam would not say that his company would again bid as well for the bonds as they were now offering to pay for them.

MANY GAMING CASES

CHANGE OF VENUE TAKEN FROM JUDGE ELLISON.

OTHER COURT BUSINESS

Tom Workman Tax Case Settled and Jury Returned Verdict Yesterday for James Palmer.

In all but one of the gambling cases set for trial in circuit court today, the defendants, through their counsel, took a change of venue from the judge and that left nothing on the docket to try, and so the jury was discharged until tomorrow morning. It seems that when a defendant in a criminal case asks for a change of venue, the Court is bound to give it to him, but in these instances Judge Ellison appeared to be a little reluctant, if not somewhat provoked. He referred to the fact that in some of the cases when the defendants were before him at a former term he warned them that if they were ever guilty again and were brought up before him, he would give them the severest punishment that the law warranted, and now they came in, in view of that, and asked and forced a change of venue in the hope that they may get a lighter punishment before some other judge.

After the changes of venue were granted and Judge Ellison was considering what judge he would call in to try the cases, it was agreed between the defendants and the prosecuting attorney that L. C. Cook should sit as special judge in all but one of the cases, and in that one W. A. Blagg should sit as special judge.

The gaming cases were those of Oliver South, Warren Ellsworth, Dick Hankins, Charley Finnell, Clyde Fox, French Brown, Gene Hadden and Dick Ware, each pleading guilty and being fined $25 and costs by Judge Cook.

In the case of the state vs. Harlan Reece, charged with gaming, he pleaded guilty and was given a fine of $200 by Special Judge Blagg. Mr. Reece was paroled on payment of costs for the reason that the offense he was charged with was committed some two years ago and that since that time he has been an industrious young man and that his conduct has been of the best. The petition that was presented to the court on behalf of Reece was signed by the best citizens of Elmo and that community.

While Judge Blagg was on the bench he appointed a committee composed of M. E. Ford, John M. Dawson and Chas. McCaffrey to secure a picture of Judge W. C. Ellison for the court room. All of the portraits of former circuit judges of this county since the county was organized are displayed there. This committee will also arrange for a day when it will be presented.

Workman Case Settled.

The suit of W. R. Tilson, collector vs. Tom Workman for back taxes on personal property was settled out of court yesterday and dismissed. It is said that the taxes amounted to about $700 and with the penalty and court costs, it will amount to $815.

Jury Finds for Palmer.

The jury in the case of the City vs. Jim Palmer, colored, brought in a verdict for the defendant. The case was sent to circuit court on an appeal from the city. This is the second case the city has lost at this term of the court, and the costs in both of them will cost the city about $100.

Other Court Business.

Charles Nicholas, charged with disturbing the peace, was fined $5 and costs.

State vs. Fred Vandersloot, appeal from justice court, settled and dismissed.

City vs. Roy O. Yeaman, appeal from police court, judgment by agreement for the plaintiff for $10 and all costs and stay of execution for 60 days.

The Cyclone Fence Co., vs. Frank Crowdes, appeal from J. P. court, continued by agreement.

Antoine A. Steffes, petition for naturalization, continued to June 1916, term.

Epperson Case Tomorrow.

The case of the state vs. Harry Epperson, charged with carnal knowledge, is set for trial for tomorrow. It was said today that the case would not be tried.

C. E. Business Meeting Tonight.

EVEN MONEY ON BIG SERIES

If "Alex" Pitches First Game, It's 7 to 5 on Philadelphia.—Many Freak Bets.

Special to The Democrat-Forum.

New York, Oct. 5.—Betting on the final outcome of the world's series is about even money on each team. The general opinion is that the Red Sox are a stronger team but the fans are afraid of their money after the losses on Philadelphia Americans last year.

The odds are 7 to 5 on Philadelphia if Alexander pitches the opening game. A month ago fans were saying that they would give big odds on Boston but the plucky drive and the staying power of Philadelphia in the closing weeks of the National League race makes Red Sox fans now demand even money.

Many freak bets as usual are being made.

WILSON'S VICTORY

COMPLETE DISAVOWAL AND ADMISSION MADE BY GERMANY.

SITUATION IS CLEARED

Settling of Damage Amounts Only Difference Remaining Between U. S. and Kaiser.

Washington, Oct. 5.—Count Von Bernstorff, German ambassador, arrived here today for another conference with Secretary of State Lansing. He was extremely optimistic of a happy outcome of all negotiations.

Bernstorff handed Secretary Lansing a memorandum on the Arabic. It accepts the position of the United States that the attack should not have been made.

It admits that such a torpedoing is not justified on the grounds of self-defense and carries out the suggestion of the state department made last week that the German government be more specific.

The memorandum will be submitted to President Wilson if it is acceptable, nothing will remain to be accomplished except fixing the amount of damage for the loss of American lives on the Arabic.

This practically clears up the difference between the United States and Germany as the United States position on the Lusitania has already been accepted by Germany.

Secretary of State Lansing hinted broadly that the submarine controversy with Germany was now cleared up and all danger of a diplomatic break with that country passed.

The frost is on the pumpkin but the fodder is yet to be put into the shock.

It might be well to recognize somebody in Mexico while there is still some one to recognize.

Calling it "Champ Clark day" was equivalent to calling it democratic day. Champ Clark and democracy are never separated.

When Jas. R. Mann of Illinois, announced his withdrawal from the presidential race at St. Louis, the republicans were relieved of about the best material so far mentioned.

When republican newspapers and politicians show more than ordinary interest in trying to defeat the nomination of a democratic official, democrats should think several times before they turn him down. It means he is a strong man at the polls. The opposite party always wants to see men nominated that they can defeat.

Bulgaria has played hide and seek with the European belligerants as long as the game will be permitted. Both sides demand now that she either stay squarely on the fence or get off. She has gotten so far over balanced that it is hardly possible to get squarely neutral again and if she gets into the fray, there will be another map of the Balkan countries when it is all over.

The big democratic meeting in St. Joseph was a great success. Senator Reed expressed the sentiment of every speaker when he congratulated the party generally and the local committee particularly including Judge Mayer, Geo. Akers, Judge Culver, Frank Freytag and all those who had given their time to making it the great success it was.

The three principal speakers at the republican meeting at St. Louis were Senator Weeks of Massachusetts, Jas. R. Mann of Illinois and Jas. Watson of Indiana, all out of state talent. At the democratic meeting at St. Joseph there was no need for foreign statesmen. The Missouri democracy has statesmen and speakers that rank with the best in the nation.

When we strengthen the navy, what will we strengthen it with? Some time ago it seemed that battleships were to be useless on account of the submarines. Now it seems that a way has been discovered to make the submarine comparatively useless. Official favor is turning to speed and the battle cruiser that the "strong navy" men wouldn't consent to in the last congress, seems to be the vessel now in greatest favor. They can do damage and can get away and cost less than the dreadnaught.

LAUGHS SELF TO DEATH.

Victim Forced to Leave Dinner, Found Dead on Lawn.

Patchogue, N. Y.—During a dinner of the Jeffersonian Democratic club at Avery's hotel, on the beach at Blue Point, William P. Gardiner, a prominent resident of this place, strangely disappeared.

Mr. Gardiner laughed so immoderately at jokes that were passing about the table that he had to leave the table. He walked on the veranda, and then the merrymakers forgot all about him.

When he had not returned to his home his wife made inquiries. His friends recalled that he had left the table, but they had not seen him after that. A search was begun, and his body was found in a flower bed on the hotel lawn.

Coroner E. S. Moore of Bayshore ordered an autopsy, and it was found that he had died of heart disease; that probably his heart was not strong enough to stand the strain of his continued and hearty laughing.

PAT-PAT PLEADER A KISSER.

Anti-osculator Was Busy In Former Days, Say Nieces.

Huntington, W. Va.—Dr. E. W. Grover, president of the Huntington board of health, has met with an unkind setback in his campaign to do away with kissing and substitute the "pat-pat," in which one gently taps the cheeks of his beloved instead of imprinting old fashioned kisses on her lips.

His three nieces, Mrs. Mertle Funk, Mrs. Rome Baker and Mrs. Mary Grover, who live in Los Angeles, Cal., have now written:

"When it came to osculatory pursuits our uncle was a humdinger in bygone days. The other boys didn't have a chance with him. He was some kisser."

Dr. Grover has received hundreds of letters protesting against his "pat-pat" system. A Cleveland man has termed him "a superannuated old stick."

FINDS DISEASE PERIL IN SWIMMING POOLS

Health Board Warns Bathers of Polluted Water.

Washington.—A swimming pool, says the United States public health service, may become polluted and transmit disease.

Ninety-one large municipalities in the United States have established public swimming pools to meet the desire for knowledge of swimming. The public health service publishes an article by Dr. Wallace A. Manheimer of Columbia university on the results obtained from an examination of six pools.

It is pointed out that in swimming in polluted water typhoid fever, conjunctivitis and other diseases may be contracted. The report gives in detail the results of the bacterial analyses made of the various pools and also of the effects of refiltration and chemical disinfection.

When the water is unfiltered it is apt to be cloudy, thereby making the danger of accidental drowning very great. When refiltration is practiced the water becomes clear and this danger is obviated.

The report concludes that the cubic capacity of a pool affects its sanitary condition, that the process of adding dilution water is an efficient means of reducing the number of bacteria and that supervision of the health of attendants is an important factor.

The combination of refiltration and disinfection by the use of calcium-hypo-chlorite renders the sanitary conditions of the water excellent, says Dr. Manheimer.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

SUNDAY DESSERTS.

MAPLE MOUSSE.—Put in a saucepan one generous cupful of maple sirup, stir into it the beaten yolks of four eggs, place over the fire and stir until the mixture becomes hot. The eggs will thicken the sirup. Take from the fire at once and stand in a pan of ice water. Beat with an egg beater until light and cold; then gently fold in one pint of cream which has been well whipped. Pour in a mold, pack in ice and salt, using more salt than for ice cream, and do not stir. Let it stand four hours.

Coffee Mousse.—One cupful of sugar, two cupfuls of good coffee, one cupful of rich milk, one pint of heavy cream, one teaspoonful of vanilla and one tablespoonful of granulated gelatin.

Dissolve the sugar in the coffee and add the gelatin, which has been softened in a little cold water. Set aside till it cools and begins to thicken slightly; then add the milk and cream, whipped stiff. To do this successfully beat the cream till it commences to get thick and add the milk a little at a time till all is in, beating between additions. Pour into a mold, put paraffin paper over the top and set on lid, which should fit tightly. Pack in ice and salt and let it stand for three hours.

Pineapple Mousse.—Soak one tablespoonful of gelatin in one-quarter of a cupful of cold water, add one cupful of hot pineapple sirup, two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice and one cupful of sugar. Strain and cool. As the mixture thickens fold in the whip from one quart of thin cream. Pack in salt and ice four hours.

MARKS OLD TRAIL

D. A. R. TO ERECT MONUMENTS AT HISTORIC SPOTS IN STATE.

GIVES EARLY HISTORY

Mrs. Charles . Bell Writes Interesting Story of Old Santa Fe Route for Maryville Chapter.

To the Missouri Daughters of the American Revolution, is credited this year two things, which have given an impetus to the state loyalty of all her people. Those things are the making of the first Monday in October an official day of state commemoration to be known as "Missouri Day" and the marking of the historic spots of the state.

At a meeting of the Maryville chapter held Saturday afternoon Mrs. Chas. T. Bell gave an unusually interesting article on the historic spots of Missouri. The second part of Mrs. Bell's writing took up the Santa Fe Trail and the historic places along the way.

In the marking of the Santa Fe Trail the Missouri Daughters have worked with the National Old Trails association and have placed red granite boulders at the most historic spots. The history of the old trail as told by Mrs. Bell is of particular interest and is as follows:

"Old Franklin, in Howard county, was founded in 1806 by a colony of one hundred and fifty families from Kentucky. It is of special interest to the Daughters because it became the starting point of the Santa Fe Trail and the social and commercial center for all the immigrants who came from the older states. It was the cradle of the Trail.

A boulder and bronze tablet was erected by the Daughters in honor of the men of Franklin who blazed the road one hundred and fifty miles across Missouri to New Santa Fe and on across the plains—almost one thousand miles—to old Santa Fe. The tablet bears the following inscription:

"Captain William Becknell of Franklin—'Father of the Santa Fe Trail'—with four companions led the first organized trade expedition to Santa Fe September 1, 1821. Franklin—'Cradle of the Trail' 1821.

Great Highway of the World.

"This trail, one of the great highways of the world stretched nearly one thousand miles from Franklin, Missouri, to Santa Fe, New Mexico. 'From Civilization to Sun Down.' Marked by the Daughters of the American Revolution and the State of Missouri 1909."

The Santa Fe Trail and the Boone's Lick road have been preserved and made state highways through the efforts of the D. A. R. Mrs. John Van Brunt and Miss Elizabeth Gentry of Kansas City, worked for six years to arouse interest in the old trail and finally secured an appropriation from the state to assist in the work.

The Santa Fe Trail stretches seven hundred miles from Missouri to New Mexico. Long traversed by buffalo and Indians, it was used by the Missouri pioneers who opened trade relations with Mexico in 1804. I have always taken a personal interest in it because my father, in 1850, then a boy of seventeen, crossed the Trail driving oxen.

This history of Missouri from 1820 to 1860 is, in part, a history of the Trail.

The Santa Fe trade was the greatest developing influence of the state for it caused the east to overflow through Missouri into the Great Unknown West, and as it flowed back through Missouri, it left its impress. Caravans of prairie schooners packed with merchandise flowed westerly through Howard, Saline, Lafayette, and Jackson counties.

The Missouri part of the Trail, one hundred and fifty miles, has been marked by twenty-nine monuments. They were dedicated in May, 1913.

Westport the Gate of the West.

Westport was the gate to the great unknown country called "The West." New Santa Fe was the last town in Missouri on the trail, for here it crawled over the Missouri line into Kansas. Plainsmen called it "the last point between civilization and sundown."

Independence, near Kansas City, was an outfitting point for the Santa Fe trade from 1827. Here the marker is set on the court house green. Mrs. Van Brunt says, "Many of the buildings facing that square have seen the panorama of the Trail go by."

At Fort Osage the marker was placed on the edge of the bluff. This is a historic spot for in 1724 De Bourgemont gaily unfurled the French flag; in 1804 Lewis and Clark camped there on their famous expedition, planted the stars and stripes and named the site Fort Clark; in 1808 the United States government changed the name to Fort Osage in recognition of the treaty made with the Osage Indians.

Wellington, Lexington, and Marshall were points on the Trail and have markers. At Arrow Rock, a ferry which was established in 1811 crossed the Missouri river laden with Santa Fe traders on their way from Franklin to Santa Fe. After the river was closed to transportation and the stage coach vanished, Arrow Rock was forgotten and for many years was isolated. The marking of the Trail and the opening of the state highway caused one speaker in referring to Arrow Rock to say, "Thanks to the Santa Fe Trail Committee we are back on the map of the state again. You have opened the book of life to us."

Start at New Franklin.

At Old Franklin, now New Franklin, was the starting point of the Trail. Here the monument of Missouri, rose granite, is erected as we have described. Howard county declared May 17, 1913, as a holiday so the people could attend the dedication of this monument. Mrs. Van Brunt writes, "Old citizens told us that the dedication was the biggest event recorded in the history of the town since the arrival of the steamboat "Independent" from St. Louis in 1819."

Many fugitive trips had been made from Missouri to Santa Fe prior to 1821; the trip of Capt. William Becknell and his four companions led by the noted Missouri trapper, Ezekiel Williams, which left Franklin September 21, 1821, was the first organized and successful trip; this was epoch-making for it brought that vast movement that changed the whole West, a movement that swept aside a civilization that antedated ours and gave an empire to the United States.

Never was modern pageant more vivid with historical interest than the old highway of civilization's march across plain and mountain, and the shadows of the past will always line the Old Trail as the traveler journeys down it. The day of the Santa Fe Trail was the heroic age of the West, the story of the Trail is the Epic of the West.

Kansas City Stock Market.

Kansas City Stock Yards, Oct. 5.—On account of increase in buying for eastern killers here last week beef cattle advanced 15 to 50 cents, corn fed cattle getting the most gain. Stockers and feeders had a weaker tendency, although best grades held up almost steady. The cattle supply today is 33,000 head, and the market is slow, but there proved to be a good outlet. After the run got shaped up, and matters down to a trading basis, the good killing cattle sold steady to strong in some cases, weak to 10 lower in other cases. Stockers and feeders were also uneven, the best kinds steady, low grades weak.

Some primeyearlings broughth $10.00 and heavy steers $9.85, medium grades of corn fed cattle $8.65, to $9.25, best grass cattle $8.25 to $9.00, medium to plain grass steers $7.00 to $7.75, low grade grass cattle down to $6.25, and in the quarantine division grass steers sold at $5.60 to $6.45. Cows and heifers are stadey today, $6.75 about the limit on fed cows, $9.50 on prime heifers middle grade cows $5.25 to $5.75, medium heifers $7.00 to $8.25.

The situation at Chicago is unchanged, and order buying for eastern killers here will be much heavier than ordinarily this week. More country buyers are here today than any day last week, although there were 33,578 stockers and feeders shipped to the country last week. Purchases by the Eastern killers last week amounted to 6,196 head, making 39,774 cattle bought and shipped out, almost 60 per cent of the total supply.

Hogs sold weak at the close last week, but receipts and demand are again on a strong basis giving salesmen the advantage, and prices are 10 higher, supply 8,000 head. Pigs are scarce, which indicates health in the country, also plenty of feed, and they sold up to $8.25 today. Light weights are most numerous and have lost some of their premium, medium weights over topping them in some cases now, both kinds selling at $8.15 today, with a rumor late of a drove of 200lb hogs at $8.25, heavy weights largely at $7.60 to $8.00.

Order buyers for eastern killers are stimulating the hog market also taking a heavy percentage of the supply last week, and about 2,500 of the run today, which keeps prices here keyed up several notches above other Missouri river markets.

Sheep and lambs sold firm last week, except on Thursday when buyers attempted to inaugurate a break, but without success.

Receipts are 12,000 today, market strong and active, top lambs $8.75, medium natives around $8.25, fat ewes $5.75, wethers, $6.25. Feeding lambs are 15 to 25 higher than a week ago, at $8.00 to $8.35, breeding ewes firm, choice young ewes up to $7.50, good western breeders $6.00 to $6.75, feeding ewes $5.00 to $5.50. Receipts from the west should run heavy through October.

PORTO RICO PLAN AID TO LABORERS

Poor Men Able to Buy Farms and Homes Cheap.

WILL BE UNDER BOARD'S EYE

Governor to Appoint Members of Homestead Commission Provided For by New Act—Will Have to Inhabit and Develop New Territory—Landowners Under Small Obligation.

San Juan, Porto Rico.—Governor Yager is preparing to appoint members of the homestead commission, provided for by an act of the last legislature of Porto Rico.

This commission will have to deal with a homestead problem to inhabit and develop a new territory. It is charged equally with developing the resources of the people and the island.

The last legislature, however, appropriated $10,000 for the purpose of making further surveys, and government surveyors are now at work near Clales. These lands are to be offered to Porto Rican laborers on easy terms in an effort to establish them as small farmers and land owners.

Although Porto Rico is dependent solely on agriculture, there are comparatively few small farmers. In a measure this is due to the fact that much land is either held in large tracts or is farmed to crops that demand large acreage.

GOVERNOR YAGER.

The laborers on these plantations and elsewhere frequently live in houses which they own, but which are built on leased land. Agricultural workers seldom own both house and land, and it is the exception rather than the rule when they do any farming for themselves. They live largely on food imported into the island, chiefly rice and beans and codfish.

The new homestead law provides that the government may sell to deserving laborers tracts of land for farming purposes not to exceed five acres each or tracts for dwelling purposes not to exceed 500 square meters, the laborers to have from eleven to thirteen years to pay for the land, which is to be tax free until finally paid for.

In order to be of assistance to the most needy the law provides that no one may become an applicant who earns more than $500 a year or who is not married or who does not have a family to support. The law also provides that for a period of seven years those taking the small farms must cultivate them under the supervision of the homestead commission.

So that the homesteader may become the ultimate owner of the land the law provides that the homestead may not be taken for debt and it may not be transferred to another except under regulations established by the commission. If a homesteader dies his heirs may assume the obligation of paying for the property and obtain title to it when the property has been completely paid for.

The only obligation which the homesteader takes upon himself is that within one year after he comes into possession of a five acre farm he must build a shack of a value of at least $50 and have at least one-third of the land under cultivation within two years. From the third to the thirteenth year he must pay to the government annually a sum equal to 10 per cent of the assessed value of the property, and he must live upon it for at least a period of five years. In the event that these conditions are not complied with, the property reverts to the government, to be again disposed of by the homestead commission.

Deaf, Twists Neck, Hears.

Troy, Kan.—Following an attack of typhoid pneumonia, Frank High, a young man of this place, was totally deaf for ten months, and his doctor failed to help him. A few days ago in a tussle with Zack Bailey, High's neck got twisted, and his hearing came back instantly.

ROCKEFELLER REMINISCENT.

Richest Man Tells of Taking His First Job, Sixty Years Ago.

Tarrytown, N. Y.—Sixty years ago John D. Rockefeller took his first job, and when the old man's attention was called to the fact it was evident that he had been thinking of the old days and that first job, for he had facts and figures at his fingers' ends.

"It was Sept. 26, 1855, that I went to work in Cleveland as an assistant bookkeeper," he said, "and I worked from that date until Jan. 1 for $50. I wonder what the young men of today would say if they had to work that time for the money I received."

"And I suppose then you got a raise?" a reporter asked.

"Well, the rest speaks for itself," he replied.

Mr. Rockefeller appeared to take much pleasure in thinking of the old days and that first job. He gave the reporter the impression that any young man who was willing to work and was thrifty would get along in the world.

RECALLS 1861 SCENES.

Preacher, Once Fiddler, Made and Lost Seven Fortunes.

Shasta, Cal.—S. D. Newbill, evangelist, has just been on a visit here to recall the scenes of 1861, when he was a gold miner.

"I mined some, but I fiddled more," explained the preacher, "for the miners liked my fiddling and paid well for it at the dances.

"I came across the plains with ox teams and made $1,200 on the way selling whisky. I was in this old town for over a year, but I don't find any of the old faces or buildings.

"I remember paying $1 for a mince pie, but I can't find even the site of the bakery."

Newbill explained that he followed all the gold rushes, made seven fortunes and lost them all. Finally, twelve years ago, when broke, he took to preaching.

LAST TRIP IN SEARCH OF A LOST GOLD MINE

If Unsuccessful Prospector Will Give It Up.

New Westminster, B. C.—Wilbur Armstrong, a Washington prospector of seventy-two, plunged into the mountains of Pitt range recently on his tenth trip in search of Siumagh's mine. For ten years Armstrong has made this pilgrimage every summer, but this, he says, will be the last if it proves as barren as the others.

Armstrong is not the only man who has headed search parties in the attempt to locate this hidden treasure, whose location is asserted to be within twenty miles of the head of Pitt lake, yet which has been discovered by but one man, who is now dead, since Siumagh, the Indian after whom it is named, was hanged in the jailyard at New Westminster in 1891.

Walter Jackson, the second discoverer, panned out thousands of dollars' worth of gold in a few days when he located it in 1901. Burying the main part of his treasure, he came out with dust and nuggets to the value of $8,000, intending to return and stake claims at his leisure. But he fell sick and, being about to die, bethought him of Andrew Hall, who had grubstaked him at Guytos many years before. He wrote to Hall and drew a chart. Hall, finding himself in need of money in the Yukon, sold the letter and chart to a cousin of Armstrong, to whom the documents finally came.

Jackson's description of his find, which is in a creek in a canyon to which there is no outlet except by an underground channel, says in part:

"In going upstream I found a place where the bedrock was bare, and you will hardly believe me when I tell you the bedrock was yellow with gold. In a few days I gathered thousands, and there were thousands more in sight."

MUTE, TALKS TO ANIMALS.

Farmer Has Been Unable to Speak to Friends For Two Years.

Crane, Mo.—Physicians are puzzled by an ailment which strikes W. H. Hilton dumb when he attempts to address persons near him, but permits him to speak plainly to persons at a distance or to animals.

Hilton is a farmer and has suffered with the affliction since he had the whooping cough two years ago. He is sixty-five years old.

Cools His Feet, Loses Job.

Bakersfield, Cal.—Traffic Officer Pinnell stood at the post of duty at a principal street crossing with his feet planted on a 300 pound cake of ice and watched the perspiring populace go by. Many persons laughed. But the chief of police consulted the city manager, and the manager conferred with several councilmen, and none of them even smiled. They discharged Pinnell for conduct unbecoming an officer and reflecting on the climate of Bakersfield.

Is 107; She Wants to Vote.

Glens Falls, N. Y.—"Of course, I haven't many years to live, but my one ambition is to live long enough to cast a vote, and I think I will." These were the words of Mrs. Mary Sage, 107 years old, of Darrowsville, a small hamlet near here, as she signed the yellow slip indorsing woman suffrage. Mrs. Sage is the oldest woman in northern New York.

"The I. I. Club."

The following poem was written by Mrs. E. W. Babb and Miss Leta Babb and was read before the meeting of the Ireland Industrial club held last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Claude Shell, northwest of the city.

Perhaps you ladies here today
Are wishing that you knew,
The reason why our little club
Meets every week or two.
But if a minute you will wait
I'll tell you all about it,
About the good times that we have
And hope you will not doubt it.

We are the treasures of a gem
Which marks us from the rest,
And makes our band of workers rank
Among the very best.
It is two bright and sparkling eyes
Through which we see the morrow
Which guides our footsteps from false paths
Likely to cause us sorrow

We are the Ireland Industrial club
Which means of course we labor,
Each one to help unselfishly
And willingly her neighbor.
On meeting days all our dull cares
Are lightly put aside,
Each shadow takes a brighter glow
And frowns and troubles hide.

With crochet hooks we firmly chain
Our friendship links together,
Our needles work the sunbeams bright
Into the dullest weather.
Our little band of workers
Are true in everyway
So if you'll please excuse me
I'll let them have their say.

CHANT.

Rub-a-dub, Rub-a-dub-dub,
Here's long life to the I. I. Club,
In sorrow or gladness, rain or shine
We are friends for all the time,
And just as proud as we can be
Of our little club, the I. I. C.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

HANSON SAYS NORMAL CHANCES ARE UNUSUALLY GOOD.

MAY PLAY M. U. HERE

Whole Team Is Back and Several New Men Are Stars.—Schedule in a Month.

In the last basketball game of the year at the State Normal School last year, as every "frenzied fan" will remember, the championship of the Intercollegiate circuit was settled. Drury won the game and the title but the Maryville Normals were second.

This year Drury faces the season with almost an entirely new bunch; Walter Hanson, athletic director of the Normal, faces it with every man on that last year's team back and a bunch of new men so good that he believes some o the old men will be beaten out of their places.

In addition to that rosy outlook, the team will have for its coach the captain of the University of Missouri team last year, George Palfreyman, who is an assistant in manual training and athletics. Palfreyman was also a letter man in baseball at the U., so he will be a great help in that sport next spring.

The team line-up last year which is here again, was Lee Scarlett, Fred Vandersloot, Howard Leech, Ralph Mc Clintock and Walter Scott. The last named is not in school yet but will enter before the opening of the season Those are the regulars.

But among the new men is Homer Scott who played such a stellar game for Maryville High School last year. His chances of making a regular place for himself are very good. C. H. McReynolds was a member of the team and a letter man several years ago. Oscar Lollis starred for Benton high, St. Joseph last year. F. W. Hunter was an important cog in the Co. F, machine at Shenandoah, Ia., for several years.

Other Maryville boys who are out for the team are W. E. Wakeman, who will also pitch for the Normal next spring; Omer Lyle, Edison Blagg and Clyde Sawyers. The other members of the squad of more than twenty-five are:

C. M. Saville, the miler from New Hampton, who ran here in the high school track meet; C. Hahn, Ralph Palmer, H. Miller, Garard, Hannan, Earl Borchers, H. Clayton, Paul Powell L. Heifner, C. Wells and Lowell Livengood, editor-in-chief of the Courier.

The chances for a championship this year are unusually good, Mr. Hanson thinks. He likes his team so well that he wants them to meet the University of Missouri team before the opening of the season and has written for games, preferably to be played here It is probable that he can get a game as the M. U. team makes a "conditioning" trip preliminary to the opening of its Missouri Valley schedule. Palfreyman's influence with the coaches at Missouri makes the chances for the game good also.

So begin to whet your support appetites for a look at the University team. But the big thing toward which all are directed is the championship of the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic association in basketball. That body will hold its annual fall meeting in Kansas City the first week in November at which Mr. Hanson will arrange a schedule.

As has been noticed, Drury lost almost the whole team by graduation, William Jewell, two; Tarkio, one; and Missouri Wesleyan several. Missouri Valley at Marshall will have a team and the Springfield Normal will present almost the same line-up. A strong fight is expected from Central College, Fayette, this year.

Mr Hanson expects to give over the coaching of the team to Mr. Palfreyman and to manage the business affairs of athletics which are becoming work enough to keep a man busy. He will also do a little scout duty before important games.

A large number of men reported yesterday for soccer football which will be used for about a month to get the players in condition.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

HOMEMADE SIRUPS.

IN making jelly or preserves the thrifty housewife saves the extra cupful of juice or fruit, adds more sugar and water and bottles it as a homemade sirup. Peach, plum, currant, blackberry and raspberry all yield most flavorful liquids. Indeed, one of the best ways in which to use up imperfect fruit or the leftovers which will not keep is to stew them rapidly, strain, add sugar and water and bottle, using the bottles with metal caps or the ordinary bottle or quart jar.

Ginger, mint and cloves are all hot weather seasonings. They can be combined with simple sirups, with iced tea or any of the carbonated waters, vichy, etc. The use of these bottled waters is growing in the home, as iced tea with vichy or fruit sirups with seltzer have a piquant tang that refreshes the heat weary body.

Ways of Using Fruit Juice.

Fruit salads are always welcome, and all practical buyers know that the best fruiterers reduce prices of specimens that are a trifle blemished, but quite good enough for cutting up into a salad. Melon salad with cherries is novel and exceedingly good. Gooseberries may be served in many ways. Here is a new way of serving pears: The pears are cut in half and the center is scooped out; then the hollow is filled with creamed Camembert cheese with a dash of chopped parsley, the dish being afterward chilled on the ice. Peaches, chilled and having the halves filled with vanilla ice cream, quickly rolled in chopped almonds and served with iced raspberry sirup, are delicious morsels.

Grape Juice.

With ten pounds of grapes use three pounds of sugar. Pick over, wash and drain the grapes well. Weigh them and put in a porcelain lined kettle with one cupful of water. Set over the fire and as soon as they burst mash them through a sieve and strain through cheesecloth. Return to stove, add sugar, simmer twenty minutes and bottle at once in bottles which have been previously heated. Set the bottles in a pan of water while filling. Do not put in all the sugar at once. Sometimes it is too much, but it depends on the grapes.

Luncheons For Children.

GROWING school children will thrive on (1) vegetable soup, which is particularly appetizing at this season when so many fresh vegetables are obtainable; peanut butter sandwiches, fresh fruit. (2) Baked beans, lettuce sandwiches and bananas. (3) Split pea soup (peas soaked over night), potato or some other vegetable, salad, fresh fruit. (4) Plain omelet, lettuce or sliced tomatoes, boiled rice pudding. (5) Cold meat sandwiches, one green vegetable, fig bars and hot cocoa or milk with each luncheon.

Sandwich Fillings.—Chop cold boiled haddock (be careful to get out all bones), chop an onion very fine and add salad dressing to make as thin as desired. Use for sandwiches or put in glass jelly tumbler, to be eaten with bread and butter. Make a curry sauce to use with chopped fish or meat. Any kind of boiled meat, lamb, beef, veal or ham can be mixed with salad dressing. Use onion with beef, pickled cucumber with lamb, celery with veal or chicken. Chop peanuts and mix with salad dressing, or spread bread with peanut butter; then slice bananas thin and lay the circles over the bread. Cover with another slice of bread spread with peanut butter.

Scrambled egg put between slices of bread—graham, rye or brown bread—will be liked, and if bacon fried crisp and chopped fine is added it will taste better and also add more nourishment. Spread bread with jam or jelly and sprinkle with chopped peanuts. Try the old fashioned crackers and cheese.

Nut Sandwiches.—Mix equal parts of grated cheese and chopped English walnuts (other nuts can be used), season with salt and pepper and spread between thin slices of bread slightly buttered. When meat sandwiches are desired cold beef or veal loaf or devilled ham makes most excellent ones.

Date Sandwiches.—Stone and chop the dates until soft enough to make into a paste and spread between slices of bread and butter.

"DEAD" MAN APPEARS.

Puzzle Is, Who Was Drowned Person Identified and Buried as O'Brien?

Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—Like a ghost aged Andrew O'Brien appeared in St. Peter's church at mass. At the earlier mass prayers had been said for him, and no one doubted it was he who had been buried in St. Peter's cemetery following the finding of his supposed body in the Hudson river.

The dead man was positively identified by Chief of Police McCabe as Andrew O'Brien, who had not been seen for several days. Others, including Dr. J. M. Poucher, who knew O'Brien well, were as positive as the chief.

The drowned man was buried, though not by the side of O'Brien's wife. When she died, many years ago, she was placed in the plot of her own family.

After the excitement due to his appearance had subsided O'Brien said he had gone into the country to work on a farm.

The body of the man buried as O'Brien will be exhumed by Coroner Selfridge and photographed for identification.

SNAKE EATS GLASS EGGS.

Enters by Knothole, but After Meal Is Too Fat to Get Out.

Baltimore.—Snakes which in the past have feasted generously on real eggs in the chicken coop of McGill Belt, who has a farm near Sugar Loaf mountain, Frederick county, have lately taken to stealing his glass eggs. A dozen of these artificial nest eggs were taken before he was able to get on the trail of the snakes.

The last snake to steal a glass egg entered by way of a knothole, but could not depart by the same route because the egg protruded so far that its body would not go through the hole. The snake was captured, then opened, and the egg taken out and placed back in the nest.

FAMINE DECIMATING AFRICAN OSTRICHES

Drought and Food Needs of Horses Have Been Causes.

Cape Town, South Africa.—Ostriches in South Africa are dying by scores because their food has been taken to feed British cavalry horses. Besides the withdrawal of many thousands of tons of alfalfa, which is the main food of the ostriches during the winter, drought has added to the scarcity of food.

It is estimated that the farms in South Africa, which are the principal sources of supply of ostrich feathers, have lost 30 per cent of their adult birds. Among young birds the mortality has been still heavier.

Formerly markets for the buying of feathers were open daily in Cape province, but with the advent of the war there was a complete cessation of trade exchange. It was only at the end of June of this year that merchants reopened the markets. In the week ending July 5 14,000 pounds were sold.

This was considered a record week, and it was immediately followed by a trade slump, which resulted in the closing of the markets. They have since been opened only a few days in each week, and the sales have been sluggish.

FORTUNE FALLS TO FIANCEE.

Girl Inherits $2,400,000 After Marrying Another Man.

Punxsutawney, Pa.—Mrs. Fred Smith of this city, formerly Miss Mary Hadden, has fallen heir to a fortune estimated at $2,400,000. It was bequeathed her, together with his home, by Harry Riams of Buffalo, who died April 26, 1914.

Riams and Mrs. Smith, then Miss Hadden, were engaged to be married. The wedding was set for May 30, 1914, but Riams was then dying.

His will, which has just been made public, leaves the bulk of his estate to his former sweetheart, but she cannot get possession until she is twenty-three, three years from now.

USES TOYS AS CHURCH LURE.

Jersey Pastor Thus Hopes to Win Couples With Children.

Plainfield, N. J.—As a special inducement to parents with young children to attend the First Presbyterian church of this city, the Rev. Dr. Charles E. Herring announced that he will have toys in certain pews to amuse the youngsters while their elders take part in the services.

Church officials kept watch of the young married couples with children who strolled by the church on Sabbath afternoons, and as they all passed the church without entering a reason was sought. Restless children was the cause, and the toy idea was then conceived.

At Seventy-two Gets First Train Ride.

Grass Valley, Cal.—Sixty-five years ago as a girl of seven, Matilda Woods came to this city with her parents, made her home in a log cabin, in the midst of pine trees, and when she reached maturity was married to the township constable. Her friends brought her stories of the outside world, but their tales never moved her to wander away from her fireside. Now at the age of seventy-two she has just taken her first ride on a railroad train and will get her first glimpse of the ocean. She has gone to visit a daughter in San Francisco.

BREAKFAST RELISHES.

PEACH Butter.—Any of the cheap peaches will lend themselves to peach butter. At this time all peaches should be washed before paring. The peaches are fuzzy and dusty, and if not washed the parings are not fit to use for sirup. To each quart of pared and cut peaches add one cupful of water, one cupful of granulated sugar and one-half teaspoonful of salt; put into a porcelain lined kettle and bring to a boil quickly, skim, then boil slowly for one hour. Some peaches are more juicy than others. In that case they must boil longer or less water used. The peach must not separate. The butter can be flavored with a little ground cinnamon or spice if desired. Sterilize the jars and fill while hot.

Pear Marmalade.—Choose nice, fine flavored pears; pare, core and quarter and drop into cold water. When ready to use drain and weigh, and to each pound of fruit allow three-fourths of a pound of sugar. Pour over just enough water to cover and simmer until tender. Make a sirup with the sugar and some of the water in which the pears were boiled; add to this sirup lemons sliced very thin, using about one lemon to each six pounds of fruit. Boil the sirup until thick, then add the pears and simmer until they are clear. Pack the fruit into jars and pour the sirup over it.

Green Tomato Butter.—Slice eight pounds of green tomatoes very thin and chop one orange and one lemon very fine, being careful to remove the seeds. Boil together one hour, add five pounds of sugar, a small teacupful of vinegar and cook until it becomes a clear, smooth mass. Put this in jelly glasses.

Peach Marmalade.—Boil together three pounds of sugar and three cupfuls of cold water fifteen minutes. Add twenty-four peaches cut up small and boil one and one-half hours. Stir frequently, so as not to burn. Put in jelly glasses and seal when cold.

Scared by Mirrors.

When cannibals attacked Captain Greenhill and crew of the British ship George Fleming off the coast of Patagonia the Britishers held up mirrors in front of the savages, and when the latter saw their images they fled in fright.
